The Yummie Culinary Competition is an action-packed culinary showdown involving Ventura County’s TOP restaurants and chefs. The winner will be determined by our panel of Culinary Judges comprised of television and print media personalities, food and wine editors, and food and wine columnists based on which chef’s dish they feel is the Yummiest. The entries will be judged on flavor, presentation, innovation and quality. The winners will receive a fabulous prize package and some serious bragging rights!

OUR COMPETITIONS

“Best in Fest” Beer Competition
1st Place award goes to the best beer being poured during the festival. Each entry is judged in advance by a panel of cicerones, certified beer judges, masters, and industry experts. The blind judging begins with how well each beer represents its style, then additional evaluation is based on the beer’s aroma, appearance, flavor, mouthfeel, and overall impression. The top three beers are judged against each other to select the winner. Stay tuned for this year’s winner!

THANK YOU TO OUR MEDIA SPONSORS
June 21, 2006 • Child Protective Services removes me from my mother’s care when I am 11 years old. She left me home alone a lot and fed me meals like potato chips and water. I am taken to Casa Pacifica. A doctor talks to me and gives me an exam. They also give me some new clothes and bedding. I meet Archie – a huge black dog who sits with me. I’m very scared.

July 2006 • I meet with a lady several times a week who talks to me about being afraid of everything and how I have sudden outbursts of rage. I’m not sure I trust her, but she is nice and sometimes I feel better talking to her.

April 2007 • I meet a really nice volunteer named Martha who likes to come visit me. We talk, play games, and read books together. She is pretty cool. Sometimes we go on outings.

August 27, 2007 • I go to live with Martha in her home. I have my own room and she buys me lots of new clothes for the school year. I’m 12 years old. I start 6th grade at a new school and I make some nice friends. Casa Pacifica’s Therapeutic Behavioral Services program visits us for a while to make sure my move to Martha’s house goes smoothly.

December 14, 2010 • I am heartbroken. At 15 years old I have to go back to Casa Pacifica. Martha lost her job. She used up all her savings while trying to find a new job. Martha had to go live with her aunt and uncle in Wisconsin while she tried to get back on her feet, and she couldn’t take care of me anymore.

April 8, 2011 • I get placed in a new foster home. It’s okay, but I end up arguing with them a lot because I’m angry.

October 15, 2011 • I’m 16 years old and I return to Casa Pacifica. This time they place me in the Residential Treatment Center. I am really mad and frustrated. I cut on my arms and I’m not eating much. I miss Martha, even though I get to talk to her sometimes on the phone.

November 2011 • The CITY program starts working with me and talking to me about when I will emancipate from the foster care system. It kind of scares me. We work on getting my important documents together and teaching me independent living skills.

March 14, 2013 • At 17 years old I move to a group home in the community. The CITY program still keeps contact with me and talks to me about what I want to do when I graduate high school in June. We check out the local junior colleges. I have pretty good grades in spite of everything.

June 2013 • I graduate high school! I go to a special Milestones Ceremony hosted by Casa Pacifica and some other agencies. I am really proud to graduate on time, even with everything I’ve been through.

August 24, 2013 • I emancipate from the foster care system and I’m about to start my first semester at Ventura College! I am excited to move into the CITY program’s transitional housing called Vicki’s House. I will learn all kinds of skills there for when I eventually live on my own. I have a roommate and there is a house ‘mom’ that helps us when we need it.

May 2015 • Junior college is finished! I have a part time job at a clothing store. I’m doing really well and excited to start at California State University Channel Islands in the fall! I’m also going to move into Otis House – transitional house in the community the CITY program runs. I will be on my own! Martha is moving back to California in the summer. I can’t wait to see her. I am really happy and excited for my future!
CASA PACIFICA PROGRAMS

CAMPUS PROGRAMS

Crisis Care Emergency Shelter  Temporary shelter for children ages infant-17 years who fall victim to family abuse, neglect, or abandonment.

Residential Treatment Center  For children ages 9-18 years with severe emotional or behavioral problems that prove too difficult for the youth to maintain placement in a group or foster home.

Health Clinic and Clinical Services  A fully certified primary care clinic specializing in the physical and emotional issues presented by abused, neglected, and at-risk children/youth.

Nonpublic School  Fully certified special education school with a low teacher/student ratio that helps students regain grade level, build classroom skills, and grow socially.

Parent-Child Interaction Therapy  For children ages 2-8 years transitioning home from emergency shelter care, or parents in the community who need help with a challenging child. PCIT teaches parenting and discipline techniques that build a healthy parent-child relationship.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

Ventura & Santa Barbara Counties

Therapeutic Behavioral Services (TBS)  Short-term, individualized behavioral interventions provided in the home, school or other community setting for children who are in jeopardy of being placed in a high-level group home.

Wraparound  An intensive, family-centered program lasting a year to year-and-a-half that targets youth who are at-risk of being removed from home. Families receive an individualized plan based on their unique strengths, values, norms, and preferences.

Intensive Family Services  Same as Wraparound but services last for only a few months.

Intensive Treatment Foster Care (ITFC)  Through intensive treatment services in the foster home, ITFC foster parents support and nurture one emotionally challenged foster child and act as a bridge between the child and their return to their family.

Kindle Family Connections  Foster children, separated from family, are at risk of losing permanent connection. This program reconnects children with their lost families and helps heal emotional wounds.

Coaching Independence in Transitional Youth (CITY)  Provides transitional (16-18 years) and emancipated (18-24 years) foster youth support services including housing, employment, living skills, clinical services, and educational assistance, among others.

Alumni Services  Available to anyone who has ever received Casa Pacifica’s services and provides access to educational assistance, community speakers, living skills presentations, financial training, parenting information, and to the CITY Program.

BECOME AN ANGEL...

Originally comprised of eight members and founded in 1990, the Casa Pacifica Angels now number over 250 members. Each year they raise thousands of dollars through fundraising events – including the Wine, Food & Brew Festival and “Spotlight on Style” Fashion Show. The Angels also host four parties for the children – End-of-Summer, Halloween, Christmas Holiday, and Prom. Each Angel volunteer has a heart of gold and the strong desire to make a difference. If we’ve just described you, consider becoming an Angel today!

...OR AMIGO

The Casa Pacifica Amigos organize and sponsor activities for the children that might not otherwise be available to them, such as bike rides, roller skating, pinewood derby races, and car shows. We are looking for positive, adult role models for the children!
