Casa Pacifica's Postdoctoral program offers advanced general training in Child and Adolescent Clinical Psychology with a focus on Complex Trauma. Our training program is an organized experience which, in contrast to the on-job training, is designed to provide the Fellow with a planned, programmed sequence of supervised training experiences. The program provides advanced clinical training in treating complex trauma and at-risk youth, attachment-based conceptualization skills, evidenced based treatments, crisis management, brief and long-term psychotherapy, case management, group therapy, assessment, psychoeducational groups, and consultation. Casa Pacifica's Postdoctoral program is a member of the Association of Psychology Postdoctoral and Internship Centers*.

All Fellowship slots are full-time, fully funded, and require a training commitment of one year, commencing on the first Tuesday following Labor Day. A Postdoctoral Fellowship position may include one of the following program tracks: The Short Term Residential Therapeutic Program (STRTP), Camino a Casa (short-term treatment program with RTC, PHP and IOP), and the Non-Public School (NPS). Fellows will be assigned to any one of these program tracks. Fellows may be able to gain additional experience in another program with approval. The training consists of the following components: Direct Mental Health Services, Competency in Complex Trauma, Program Development and/or Outcomes, Didactic Training, Assessment, Professional Development, Consultation, Teaching, Mentorship and Supervision Experience. Modifications to training may be necessary due to the Covid-19 Pandemic and these will continue to evolve as future health directives mandate. However, given that Casa Pacifica provides essential services in residential treatment settings, fellows will be providing direct client services with appropriate safety protocols.

Prior to beginning the postdoctoral fellowship experience at Casa Pacifica, Fellows are expected to have attained a high level of accomplishment in generalist training and some focused training in a similar clinical setting. Prior experience at a residential facility is helpful. While at Casa Pacifica, Fellows will work towards completing their 3,000 hours of training (internship and postdoctoral training hours combined), become eligible to take the psychology board examinations, and finally become licensed psychologists in the State of California. Our program fulfills the licensure requirements for postdoctoral supervised practice in the State of California. The goal of our program is to have Fellows demonstrate an advanced level of professional psychological competencies, skills, abilities, proficiencies, and knowledge in the profession of psychology, particularly working with children, adolescents, and young adults and to become a licensed psychologist.

OUR BACKGROUND

Casa Pacifica, located on a 23-acre campus in Camarillo, California, was established in 1988 and opened its doors in 1994 to meet Ventura County's need for: (a) shelter care for abused, neglected and abandoned children and adolescents removed from their homes by Child Protective Services (CPS) under the provisions of the Welfare and Institutions code, Section 300 and (b) residential treatment for children with serious emotional challenges for whom appropriate placements in Ventura County did not exist. In 2017, these programs ended and our Short-Term Residential Treatment Program (STRTP) was established. Camino a Casa was also created as a short-term residential program offering a step down to Partial Hospitalization(PHP) and Intensive Outpatient Program (IOP). In addition to these core services, Casa Pacifica offers Non-Public school to children who live on or off campus as well as assessments, educational programs, family support, medical services, psychiatric/psychological treatment, and a variety of community based interventions to children and their families. Our postdoctoral fellows provide services and receive training on our main campus.

Unique to Casa Pacifica is the partnership between the private, non-profit entity and the County of Ventura as represented by our Partner County agencies: Human Services Agency, Ventura County Behavioral Health, Juvenile Justice, and our local school districts. This partnership implements a "system of care" philosophy dedicated to the proposition that children with multiple problems require multi-agency solutions. Consequently, the partnership seeks to integrate Casa Pacifica into the community's system of care including existing local public and private service providers and private insurance for children and families. Casa Pacifica does not operate in isolation, but with partners in the community as part of a network and continuum of services available to high risk children and families.

FELLOW POSITIONS - CAMPUS BASED SERVICES

A Fellow will be assigned to take part in one of these tracks depending on the positions open in each track. Additional experience in another program may be possible and will be based on the program need and the trainee's ability to meet all requirements in their current program assignment. Approval from the training committee, DCT and their primary supervisor is required for additional program experience.

Short Term Residential Therapeutic Program

(STRTP) Track: Fellows in this track are assigned to one of our three adolescent STRTP cottages all serving girls ages 9 to 17. The STRTP track offers long-term therapy experience with youth and their families as well as psycho-educational and evidenced based group experience. This track offers experiences working with a clinically acute population and will require a commitment to working with complex trauma, explosive anger, and disruptive behavior. Weekly schedule is Monday through Friday. Previous clinical work experience in a similar setting is strongly preferred as training in the Residential Treatment Center is an intense experience.

Non-Public School (NPS) Track: The NPS, accredited by the Western Association of Schools & Colleges (WASC) and the State Department of Education, is designed to provide educational services to seriously emotionally disturbed children who cannot educationally benefit from public school programs and require a more intensive level of educational services. The Casa Pacifica School serves children from the RTC as well as day students from surrounding communities, grades three through 12. The Fellow in this track will work with children and/or adolescents who attend the non-public school at Casa Pacifica and then return to their families or care providers in the evening. These students typically attend a minimum of 1 year at our non-public school providing the fellow with long-term treatment experiences. Fellows are integrated with the IEP team serving their youth and provide individual, group and family therapy. Weekly schedule is Monday through Friday.

Camino a Casa Track: This track offers a short-term therapy experience with a clinically acute population. Adolescent boys and girls challenged with emotional and behavioral dysregulation are referred to this program often following hospitalization and/or by their private insurance companies. Fellows work as part of an interdisciplinary treatment team and experiences include individual and family therapy along with immersion in evidence-based practices including DBT and other models of group therapy or skills groups. Fellows will also collaborate with commercial insurance companies in integrating services with health care benefits. This setting includes residential treatment (RTC), a Partial Hospitalization Program (PHP) and an Intensive Outpatient Program (IOP). Fellows will be assigned to work either a Tuesday through Saturday schedule or Monday-Friday.

PROGRAM PHILOSOPHY

MISSION STATEMENT

Casa Pacifica restores hope, enhances resilience, and strengthens community connections for children, young adults, and families at the most challenging times of their lives. Fellows will develop into ethical, competent child and adolescent psychologists trained in the Local Clinical Scientist model who respects diversity and contributes to their communities and the field of clinical psychology.

To meet Casa Pacifica’s mission, the Clinical Services Department is the vehicle for integrating the various services provided by Casa Pacifica with the support systems of public agencies and families via integrated, comprehensive treatment planning and mental health services.

THEORETICAL ORIENTATION

Casa Pacifica’s approach to treatment is neuro-relational and attachment driven treatment utilizing evidence-based interventions. As such, all clinicians are well versed in complex trauma and attachment theory, DBT and CBT interventions, and other evidenced based practices. With any given case, we may conceptualize or integrate into treatment plans aspects of other theories (e.g., psychodynamic, humanistic, family systems therapy, etc.), but are always grounded in the literature on the effects of complex trauma and disrupted attachment on the development of the mind and the self. We are committed to assessing the needs of every child on an individual basis and then establishing a treatment plan with specific goals. These goals will change as the child grows and achieves. As part of the assessment process, we have an appreciation for the child’s developmental stage (both psychologically and chronologically), diversity, and the complex history most of our youth bring with them. In addition, we believe it is often essential to act as a child’s advocate in terms of working with parents, teachers, social workers, probation officers, attorneys, etc.

TRAINING MODEL AND UNDERLYING VALUES

Casa Pacifica's Postdoctoral Training Program provides a strong clinical training program to fellows for the effective practice of health service psychology with a focus on clinical work with children, adolescents and transitional age youth. It is based on the Local Clinical Scientist model. Our intrinsic goal is the development of ethical competent child and adolescent psychologists who respect human diversity and contribute to their communities and the field of psychology. Our educational focus is preparation in the applied practice of clinical psychology based on the body of scientific knowledge and scientific principles of our profession. Our primary mode of training is "learning by doing." Consequently, we provide an array of training seminars, training supervisors and training experiences with a practical, experiential approach. To the extent possible, we use the naturally occurring events within our program as opportunities for training. We are also committed to assisting fellows in identifying, testing and refining "best practices" in psychology with respect to empirically supported approaches and in facilitating the development of their own research or program development projects. Weighing the interpersonal, familial, cultural, regional, economic and social influences that impact a person's life helps us promote a "localized perspective." This process facilitates a match between "best practices" and the specific needs of the individual. Through this process, our fellowship program prepares fellows for licensure and facilitates advanced training in child and adolescent psychology.

Our training program is committed to the following five underlying values:

1. WE ARE COMMITTED TO TRAINING IN A SCIENTIST-PRACTITIONER MODEL, AND PARTICULARLY THE "LOCAL CLINICAL SCIENTIST" MODEL.
2. WE ARE COMMITTED TO A BROAD RANGE OF SKILL DEVELOPMENT WHILE WORKING ON A MULTI-DISCIPLINARY TEAM, ENCOMPASSING ASSESSMENT, THERAPY, EVIDENCE BASED INTERVENTIONS AND PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT.
3. WE ARE COMMITTED TO TRAINING IN UNDERSTANDING AND RESPECTING HUMAN DIVERSITY AND TO PROVIDING EFFECTIVE SERVICES TO DIVERSE CLIENTELE.
4. WE ARE COMMITTED TO FACILITATING THE DEVELOPMENT OF PROFESSIONAL IDENTITY AND PROFESSIONALISM.

5. WE ARE COMMITTED TO FLEXIBILITY IN DEVELOPING EACH FELLOW'S TRAINING, WHILE MAINTAINING THE INTEGRITY OF THE ESTABLISHED PROGRAM.

Our fellowship combines required training experiences in broadly applicable areas with elective training options with approval designed to meet the Fellow's needs, interests and backgrounds. Fellows, with their supervisors and the Training Director, develop individualized goals and activities that will meet their specific career goals. New goals are set each semester.

Values are implemented via the Profession-Wide Competencies:

#1 PROFESSIONAL VALUES AND ATTITUDES

Postdoctoral fellows will reflect the values and attitudes of psychology, self-reflect, be open and respond professionally.

#2 ASSESSMENT

Postdoctoral fellows will demonstrate competencies in conducting evidence-based assessment and diagnosis.

#3 COMMUNICATIONS AND INTERPERSONAL SKILLS

Postdoctoral fellows will demonstrate effective interpersonal skills, produce well-integrated and informative communications and manage difficult communications.

#4 INTERVENTION

Postdoctoral fellows will demonstrate competence in evidence-based psychotherapy, conceptualization, treatment planning and proficiency in work with youth with complex trauma.

#5 INDIVIDUAL AND CULTURAL DIVERSITY

Postdoctoral fellows will demonstrate knowledge, sensitivity, awareness and skills in professional activities.

#6 CONSULTATION AND INTERPROFESSIONAL/INTERDISCIPLINARY SKILLS

Postdoctoral fellows will demonstrate intentional collaboration with professionals to promote effectiveness in care.

#7 ETHICAL AND LEGAL STANDARDS

Postdoctoral fellows will demonstrate knowledge of and act accordingly to the APA Ethical Principles and Code of Conduct, relevant laws and professional standards and guidelines.

#8 RESEARCH

Postdoctoral fellows will integrate science and practice thru systematic efforts in reviewing literature and applying advances to practice and utilize data and treatment progress to modify interventions.

#9 SUPERVISION

Postdoctoral fellows will demonstrate competency in mentoring and providing supervision to trainees and others in the development of skills in professional practice and the effective evaluation of those skills.

TRAINING PROGRAM

The Casa Pacifica Postdoctoral program offers sequential and graded advanced clinical training in the treatment of complex trauma, crisis management, brief and long-term psychotherapy, group therapy, assessment and consultation.

- 1. Orientation: The first three weeks of the postdoctoral program is spent in orientation to the agency and the clinical program. Fellows are exposed to agency wide programs, policies and procedures and the administration of the agency. They are able to meet in small groups with the program managers and staff and begin to understand the mission and goals of the agency as well as meet the people responsible for administrating and implementing these services. An orientation to the clinical department and the postdoctoral program is conducted. They learn how their training program, the clinical department and the agency are integrated. They review their post-doctoral training manual with the training director. Fellows meet their supervisors, formalize supervision agreements and begin to develop relationships with both their supervisors and agency staff. During this orientation period they begin on the job training by shadowing clinicians and engaging in daily activities.
- 2. Competency in Specialty Area: Each Fellow will have the opportunity to develop advanced skills working with at risk youth and young adults, many who experienced complex trauma. These youth either live at home, in the foster care system or placed in our residential program.
- 3. Direct Mental Health Services: Fellows conduct psychological assessment, evaluation, and crisis intervention. They provide both long and short term individual and family psychotherapy for children, adolescents and their families. Training on group experiences includes: therapy groups, psycho-educational, process groups and support groups. As a member of a multi-disciplinary team, fellows provide consultation within the agency and to our partnering agencies. Advanced training on trauma and cognitive behavioral interventions are emphasized.

4. Projects/Program Development: Each fellow will have the opportunity to develop, implement and evaluate a program intervention that compliments existing services. A completion of a defined project can include but are not limited to any of the following projects: A paper submitted for publication, a paper submitted for professional presentation, participation in program development, program evaluation and program outcome data, and grant proposal ready for submission.
5. Supervision Experience: During the first year, fellows will participate in didactic seminars on theory and practice of supervision and may have some opportunity to supervise practicum or interns trainees. An individual supervisor will provide feedback to Fellows on their supervisory skills and fellows will attend a Supervision on Supervision group. Supervisees will formally evaluate Fellows on their supervision experience. Fellows are expected to receive at minimum acceptable ratings on feedback forms.

6. Seminar Experiences:

Assessment Didactic: The assessment training is bi-weekly for the first semester. Fellows develop their assessment skills through didactics and completing psychological assessments at Casa Pacifica. The training involves integrative psychological assessment of children, adolescents or young adults, with a wide range of presenting problems. Fellows receive didactic training regarding specific personality, behavioral, intellectual, and achievement measures. Assessment topics are modified each year to best meet the needs of the incoming class.

Diversity and Family Therapy Seminar: Fellows will participate in both these yearlong seminars that meet bimonthly and include all levels of trainees. In the diversity seminar they will have an opportunity to work with other postdocs on researching an area of interest and teaching this topic at one of the Diversity seminars. During the Family Therapy Seminar fellows will sharpen their family therapy skills, present cases and videos of family therapy sessions and receive feedback as well as practice new interventions and apply a variety of theoretical orientations.

Professional Development: This seminar will be taught by the clinical supervisors and guest speakers and consists of a variety of topics which include: developmental issues for Fellows, advanced law and ethics, pathways and skills for career development, national networking, and preparation for licensure, preparation for employment as a licensed psychologist, looking ahead at the future of psychology, developing a private practice, Transitioning from Fellow to Independent Practice and Supervisor. Fellows will attend professional seminars and conferences in the community and may have the opportunity to present at professional conferences. Additionally, they will be encouraged to participate in professional organizations to acquire leadership and advocacy skills. Fellows will develop a sense of professional identity and self-confidence consistent with an advanced level of training leading to independent practice as a professional psychologist.

Supervision on Supervision: This semester seminar consists of a variety of topics which include: becoming a new supervisor, legal and ethical issues in supervision, accommodating different learning styles, supervisee's emotional experiences, working with difficult supervisees, supervision of team interactions and issues, and supervision of staff-trainees from other disciplines.

7. Assessment: Each Fellow will have the opportunity to develop advanced skill in assessment of children and adolescents with severe emotional problems. Fellows will complete a minimum of four psychological assessment reports. They will demonstrate competency in the selection of testing instruments to answer specific referral questions, as well as the administration, scoring and interpretation of tests and test data, report writing, and verbal feedback of test results.
8. Additional Training Activities: Other training activities include: teaching experience, case conferences, group supervision, crisis on-call training, rounds, treatment teams, co-leading therapy and psychoeducational groups, and clinical professional development meetings. Training activities account for 15-20 hours per week.

EVALUATION:

At the onset of the training period, a Fellow will participate in a competency evaluation and will collaboratively identify with the program training committee the specific experiences that will help round out the preparation for advanced practice competence in Child and Adolescent Psychology. At six month intervals during the postdoctoral training year, a Fellow will be formally evaluated on their skills by means of written evaluations. Over the course of the year, it is expected that the Fellow will gain a broader range of experiences and will be able to demonstrate greater skill in most profession-wide competencies areas over time. Also, it is expected that when Fellows are exposed to a competency area for the first time, they will be directed to appropriate reading and preparation, or whenever possible, will have the opportunity to observe Clinical staff performance in this area. Early experiences within a competency area will be monitored closely by supervisory staff, with expectations for greater independence over time. Ongoing evaluation consists of live observation or video tape review of client sessions, case presentations, quarterly evaluations, and evaluation of participation in rounds and seminars.

DUE PROCESS:

During orientation, Fellows will be provided with the Casa Pacifica's "Due Process Policy", found in the Postdoctoral Training Manual. This policy delineates the management and handling of problematic behavior, remediation and sanction alternatives, and the process of remediation, procedures for responding to inadequate performance by a Fellow, and general guidelines of due process, grievance, procedure, and review panel.

SUPERVISION

Minimum supervision includes:

- Individual Primary Supervision with Licensed Psychologist, 1 hour per week
- Individual Delegated Supervision with Licensed Psychologist, 1 hour per week
- Group Supervision, 2 hours per week
- Assessment Supervision (Licensed Psychologist), 1 hour per week or as needed
- Project Supervision, as needed
- Training Activities such as Rounds or Case Conferences Bi-weekly

RESEARCH / EVALUATION / PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT

Casa Pacifica places highest priority on its role as a provider of vitally needed services to the community. Therefore, postdoctoral projects encourage program evaluation, outcome projects, and research efforts. Fellows can find great opportunity to conduct scientific inquiries during their training period.

SPECIAL INTERESTS / TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

SPEAKERS / TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

Special Workshops: Casa Pacifica is committed to the ongoing training of Staff, Fellows, and Interns. Leading researchers and professionals within the field of psychology are invited to train on their areas of expertise. Casa Pacifica's Training Institute is approved by the American Psychological Association for continuing education units for psychologists. Therefore, Fellows will attend these workshops with psychologists from all over the community.

STIPEND, VACATION, FACILITIES

Fellows will be paid at an hourly rate of $28/hour and are eligible for overtime. Employment status is non-exempt and includes benefits. Paid Time Off (PTO) accumulates at a rate of 4.92 hours for every 80 hours worked plus time off on nine Casa Pacifica holidays and three sick days. PTO can be used for sick time, vacation, taking the licensing exam, etc. It is encouraged that Fellows work towards licensure and become a licensed psychologist by the end of their fellowship year. Once licensed, the Fellow will receive a salary increase.

Casa Pacifica provides an office space for Fellows to use and each Fellow will have his/her own desk, computer, and phone. Rooms with one way mirrors, video cameras and video equipment are available for Fellows to use to facilitate the supervision process.

YOUR FUTURE

Casa Pacifica is dedicated to meeting the training and professional development needs of our Fellows. In terms of professional development, we offer seminars aimed at assisting Fellows with the process of preparing and marketing themselves for future professional employment. Trained in the “Local Clinical Scientist” model, it is our hope that Fellows will leave our program with a strong professional identity and be confident and competent to work with children and adolescents who have severe emotional problems. Many fellows have gone on to leadership positions within Casa Pacific and to other similar agencies around the country. Our postdoctoral program fulfills the licensure requirements of postdoctoral supervised practice in the State of California.

LIVING IN CAMARILLO & VENTURA COUNTY

Located in Ventura County, Camarillo is the fifth largest city with about 73,000 residents, rolling hills, strawberry fields galore, a thriving business community, and affordable housing.

Camarillo is in a wonderful setting on the Pacific coastal plain, and is only 5 miles from the Pacific Ocean. Residents enjoy a mild year-round climate and outdoor activities all year.

Camarillo's location halfway between Santa Barbara and Los Angeles puts visitors and residents close to a multitude of wonderful places, attractions and activities.

Within Ventura County are cities such as Oxnard, Ojai and Ventura along the California coastline which offer non-crowded beaches, popular surf spots, harbor cruises, a 13-mile bikeway, festive shops, restaurants, family entertainment, and the Channel Islands National Park Visitors Center. Additionally, the city of Ventura has a vibrant art district, an array of galleries, artisans and stage performances, an archaeological museum, city walking tours, and the Annual 'Music Under the Stars' concert.

For those who like warm weather, recreation, cultural diversity, and a growing, changing community, our area has great appeal.

THE FELLOWSHIP APPLICATION PROCESS

To be eligible for the Postdoctoral Fellowship, applicants must have completed a doctoral program in clinical, school or counseling psychology from an APA accredited program and APA accredited internship. The Fellowship is a one-year commitment and requires 40-44 hours per week. Upon acceptance to the program, all positions are contingent upon applicants satisfying the following eligibility requirements: Successful completion of a background check, successful completion of the doctorate degree in clinical, school or counseling psychology and completion of a TB skin test screening. It is recommended that incoming fellows carry their own professional liability insurance in addition to the insurance coverage of Casa Pacifica.

Please apply using the APPIC Psychology Postdoctoral Application, APPA CAS. You may go to the APPIC website (appic.org) and follow the link to postdoctoral programs or follow this link at <https://appicpostdoc.liasoncas.com/applicant-ux/#/login>

The following items will need to be uploaded to complete your application.

1. A current curriculum vitae
2. A completed cover letter
3. Three (3) letters of recommendation from clinical supervisors (follow directions at APPA CAS for recommendations)
4. Written sample- de-identified. Psych assessment, preferably child or adolescent.
5. Sample of written work such as a de-identified intake note or progress note
6. Official transcripts should be mailed to APPA CAS. The address and directions are listed on the application instructions.

Applications must be received by December 17th to be considered in the first pool of applicants (if any positions remain open after the first pool of applicants have interviewed, then applications will be received until the positions are filled). Interviews are expected to begin in January 2022 and will be offered only to applicants who have submitted a complete application and are expected to meet the requirements for their doctoral degree by August 2022. The postdoctoral fellowship year starts September 5, 2022. If you have questions about this process please contact Sally Voorhees, Senior Administrative Assistant at (805) 366-4103 or svoorhees@casapacifica.org.
